St. Luke's Community Health Improvement Fund Grant Application Process Now Open

BOISE - At the core of the mission of St. Luke's Health System is a commitment to improving the health of the people we serve.

As part of the health system's effort to achieve that goal, St. Luke's has established the Community Health Improvement Fund. This fund is designed to provide financial support for organizations that also work to improve the health of people in the region.

Through Sept. 30, St. Luke's will be accepting grant applications for projects addressing health maintenance, health education, improved access to health care services, prevention, wellness and other health-related services or activities.

Proposals must address one or more of the Community Benefit Priorities outlined in the Fund's application and are expected to demonstrate collaboration and coordination with other community organizations, including St. Luke's. Proposals must also include a mechanism with which to measure the results of the program or project. A copy of the application is available online at www.stlukesonline.org/donate or by calling (208) 381-2308.
